MARYLAND COACHING STAFF

Head Coach
Gina LaMandre

Now in her third season at the helm of the Terrapin program, Gina LaMandre continues to maneuver steadily toward the challenge of being the best. In their third season of Division I play, it appears that LaMandre has the Terrapins ready to take some really big steps.

Based on the first two seasons' results, it appears that LaMandre is well on her way to building a championship-style team at the University of Maryland. With a roster that included 16 underclassmen, and no aide of athletic scholarships, Maryland finished its initial Division I campaign with a 15-33 record without the aide of athletic scholarships.

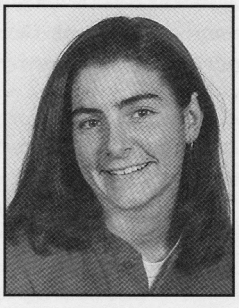
The second season under LaMandre was even more promising. The Terrapins improved from a 15-33 inaugural season record to a 33-24-1 mark last season. The Maryland pitching staff combined for a nation-best 0.82 ERA, with freshman Kelly Shipman posting the second-best ERA in the nation (0.51). The efforts paid off in the end with LaMandre garnering Speedline/NSCA Coach of the Year for the Mid-Atlantic region, and Shipman earning Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year honors.

Prior to her arrival in College Park, LaMandre was an assistant coach at Massachusetts for eight seasons. Her primary responsibilities included developing the pitching staff and the recruiting of student-athletes.

LaMandre's involvement in softball dates back to her playing days at Trenton State College where she was a two-time All-American in 1984 and '85, and was named Trenton State's Female Athlete of the Year in 1985. She served her alma mater as pitching coach and strength and conditioning coach for one year before going to Massachusetts.

LaMandre earned her bachelor's degree in biology with a chemistry minor from Trenton State in 1986. She added a master's degree in exercise science from Massachusetts in January of 1992.

LaMandre is a member of the National Softball Coaches Association, the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the American College of Sports Medicine.



Assistant Coach
Rachel Lawson

Joining the University of Maryland Terrapin softball program is assistant coach Rachel Lawson. Although Lawson may be new to College Park and the Terrapin family, her familiarity with collegiate softball will help her transition into her new position quickly.

A native of Billings, Montana, Lawson joins Maryland head coach Gina LaMandre in her first-ever assistant coaching position. She comes to College Park via Amherst, Massachusetts. Lawson was a four-year letterwinner at UMass where she led the Minutemen to a 1992 3rd place finish at the College World Series, and two NCAA Regional appearances. A two-time Atlantic 10 All-Conference selection, Lawson played first base and was also named to the Atlantic 10 All-Tournament Team in 1992 and 1994. Massachusetts claimed the Atlantic 10 regular season championship all four years of Lawson's career, and were crowned tournament champions three of the four years.

Lawson is a 1994 graduate of Massachusetts where she earned her bachelor's degree in exercise science. She will earn her master's degree in sport management from her alma mater this February.

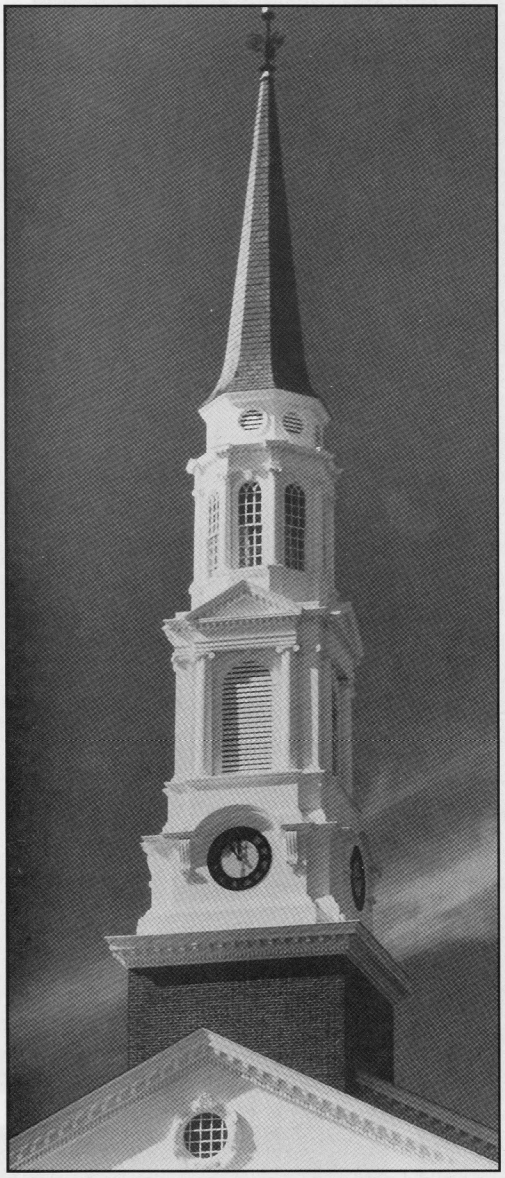
HERE'S MARYLAND



These are great days at the University of Maryland at College Park. The university, through an act of the state legislature, has been designated officially as the state's flagship campus with a mandate to become one of the nation's leading public universities. The effect of the mandate is for individuals from all corners of the university to aspire toward excellence, to think great thoughts and to become immersed in an educational enterprise of the highest caliber. There is an unmistakable momentum for change and a sense of heightened expectation at College Park-Maryland is choosing quality.

The faculty have enthusiastically endorsed a new general education program that began in the fall of 1990. It is a blueprint for comprehensive changes in the undergraduate experience at Maryland. The campus is reducing its undergraduate enrollment, improving the ratio between faculty and students, raising admissions standards, revamping the University Honors Program, strengthening the advising system, supporting expanded undergraduate research, and encouraging innovations in teaching.

A new language house has opened where student residents have direct satellite access to foreign language television broadcasts from the USSR, Latin America, Italy and Japan, and where, in a total immersion setting, they have pledged to speak their chosen language at all times. A new honors house, a stimulating living and learning center for undergraduates taking part in the University Honors Program, opened in 1992. An international house, a living-learning environment that will meet the growing needs of the diverse international population on campus, was also added.

HERE'S MARYLAND

The state of Maryland is unrivaled in its scenic beauty, its rich heritage, and its wealth of educational, recreational, and cultural opportunities. From the mountain passes of Garrett County in the west, to the sand dunes of Assateague Island on the Eastern Shore, and the cosmopolitan excitement of Baltimore and Washington, D.C., there is unparalleled variety of experiences and resources available to students at the university.

Nine miles from the nation's capital, the University of Maryland at College Park is within easy reach of the country's best research facilities. The Library of Congress, the National Archives, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine are among the many unique resources in the area.

In addition to traditional scholarly resources, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company, and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, a recent and remarkable renaissance has added the glistening touch of office towers and hotels to the quaint shops and ethnic restaurants of its many colorful neighborhoods. and the National Aquarium anchor the Inner Harbor, which has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year.

The Chesapeake Bay accounts for nearly 20 percent of Maryland's acreage, and is a focal point for the serious study of estuarine ecology as well as a recreational treasure. It is the source of Maryland's famed crabs and other seafood specialties, and a refuge for many species of water fowl.

The University of Maryland at College Park, as the flagship campus of the state higher education system, is a vital part of Maryland's current prosperity and its vision for the future. For students here, the state offers a bounteous extension to the campus' own wealth of opportunity.

Our location adds to the excitement on campus, too. Few regions in the nation have the intellectual, cultural and physical resources to compare with those in the Baltimore-Washington, DC. corridor. College Park's location astride that corridor means that Maryland undergraduates may tap these resources to their fullest - through internships, research projects, cooperative work-study and other programs offering hands-on experience.

We invite you to take a closer look at the University of Maryland, its extensive academic programs, faculty, research facilities, student activities and support services and the resources and opportunities it offers. See for yourself the number of different ways in which Maryland is choosing quality. There has never been a better time to choose Maryland.
